Tree–mendous!

Mum's fundraiser is a winner

Rosalind Bell and her team of volunteers. Code1076099

AN Ormskirk mum's mission to raise money for the hospital that saved her young son's life proved a 'tree–mendous' success.

Rosalind Bell, whose three–year–old son Daniel was rushed into emergency surgery for a brain tumour at Alder Hey Children's Hospital in June, came up with the idea of collecting families' 'used' Christmas trees for a £10 donation, with the money raised being used to buy mini iPads for the hospital.

And with the help of volunteers, family and friends, the 33–year–old from Black Moss Lane picked up more than 100 trees from homes across West Lancashire, Sefton and South Liverpool on Saturday (January 10).

Many of the people whose trees they collected donated more than the £10, while others contributed even though they didn't have a tree, raising a fantastic £2,060 total.

This will fund nine mini iPads and protective cases for the neurosurgical and oncology wards at Alder Hey and Rosalind is inviting young children who have been treated there to

TORY STALWART QUITS TO LAUNCH NEW GROUP

Report by Henry James

A LONG–serving councillor and former deputy leader of the borough council has resigned from the Conservative Party to launch a new group of independents called Our West Lancashire.

Councillor Adrian Owens, who has been a Tory councillor for Ormskirk's Derby ward since 1999, had been expected to be 'rubber–stamped' as the leader of the council last year.

However, two of his own party surprisingly failed to vote for him in a move Cllr. Owens described as "deeply regrettable."

The Conservative leader of the council, Councillor David Westley, expressed "shock and surprise" at the decision and believed Cllr. Owen's move could have "major implications" for the hung borough council. The Tories and Labour currently hold 27 seats each.

Cllr. Owens, who is being joined in launching the new group by local residents Ian Davis and Jane Thompson, said that he would continue to stand in the Derby ward.

Councillor Adrian Owens with Ian Davis and Jane Thompson

When asked if his resignation had been triggered by last year's failed leadership bid, he declined to comment.

However he said: "I had ideas on how I would like to improve life in West Lancashire and that route was cut off last year. I am now pursuing another route to put forward those ideas in the future."

The party of independents intend to contest the borough council elections on May 7.

Trust campaign to recruit more nurses

Report by Henry James

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust has launched a campaign to recruit more nurses.

The trust has vacancies in general medicine, surgery and community, as well as for nurses with specialist experience in anaesthetics and spinal injuries.

Angela Kelly, interim director of nursing and quality at the trust, said: "The trust uses some brilliant agency nurses but we need a big injection of staff nurses who work only for us.

"We have opportunities for nurses starting their NHS career, nurses wanting to return to practice and nurses looking to make that next move.

"What counts is that you're passionate about giving high–quality compassionate care and share our values.

"We also offer flexible working arrangements, a supportive structured 18–month preceptorship for newly–qualified nurses and a development programme for experienced nurses."

The trust recently recruited 10 nurses from Romania to start in February who will join nurses from Portugal who arrived at Southport hospital in summer 2013.

Angela said: "Many of the Portuguese nurses have stayed with us and become valued members of staff. We were equally impressed with the quality of the candidates we interviewed in Romania.

"Recruiting nurses is tremendously challenging for all NHS organisations but I believe we offer something special that makes this trust particularly appealing.

"Southport and Ormskirk was among the first NHS trusts to offer truly integrated care to patients with community nursing teams leading the way in shaping, challenging and championing care delivered in the community.

"It works for our patients because many of them now get to stay at home and stay out of hospital, and it works for our nurses because the job is more rewarding as a result."

Nurses interested in finding out more can contact Angela on 01704 705255 or Carol Fowler, interim assistant director of nursing, at carol.fowler@nhs.net for information about the trust, the Nurse Workforce Strategy, the wards and departments and how the trust progresses and develops nursing skills and careers.

Interviews will be held on Friday, January 30.

Pensions on divorce

Family law is ever changing, and one of the biggest shake ups we family solicitors have seen recently is about to come into force, and it turns out that it is as a result of George Osborne's pension reforms, and not strictly a piece of matrimonial law at all.

As has been widely commented upon in the financial press, in future it will be possible to use your pension fund, once you reach retirement age, akin to a bank account. No longer will you be forced to purchase an annuity, but instead will be able to draw capital from a pension, subject to your prevailing income tax obligations. This means that pensioners are being put in control of their own asset, to do with as they choose.

Most commentators have welcomed this change, because of the flexibility that it gives. However, it has largely gone unremarked upon that this will have a fundamental effect on how divorcing couples can manage their affairs too. Any size of pension pot is always a relevant consideration to the court, and will be taken into account when dividing marital assets. However, with younger couples the court is still likely to give the non-pension holder other assets in lieu of a share of the other's pension.

However, the older one becomes, and the closer to retirement date, (which might be as early as 55 years of age) the more relevant the pension asset becomes. A pension is often the most significant marital asset that a couple possess after the house. The funds accrued even after a modest period of time, can be quite considerable. However, up until now pensions were one of the hardest assets to realise capital from. Now family courts will be able to use the pension fund in ever more imaginative ways to settle couple's needs, and provide capital when it is needed in a more tax efficient way.

It leaves far more options to divorcing couples than were available to them, and is an unexpected consequence to a piece of pension's legislation.

A&E under pressure

Report by Danielle Thompson

Demand for emergency services 'unprecedented' say health chiefs

Welcome to Ormskirk & District General Hospital
No Smoking within the hospital or grounds
We expect everyone to clean their hands

UNPRECEDENTED demand is being placed on A&E services at Southport and Ormskirk hospitals, say concerned health chiefs.

Latest admission figures reveal that just 62% of patients were dealt with within the recommended four–hour target at Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust in the past week – falling far below the national target of 95%.

The pressure on services has led to pleas for people going to A&E to 'examine their options' in order for nursing staff to cope with demand.

Weekly data released by NHS England shows that from Monday, January 5 to Sunday, January 11, there were 907 admissions at the trust's two A&E departments.

Of these, 569 patients (62.7%) were seen in the recommended four–hour target time from arrival to admission, transfer or discharge. However, 338 patients had to wait longer than four hours to be seen.

The figures also revealed that, over the same period, a total of 101 ambulances had to queue outside Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals, much higher than the England average of 78.4

An NHS England spokesman said that the additional pressures of cold weather, norovirus and flu have all impacted on A&E departments.

Jonathan Parry, chief executive of Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust told the Champion: "We are seeing unprecedented demand for care from older, frailer patients and people living with long–term health conditions.

"These patients often require hospital treatment but can take longer to get better and may need care arranging at home, delaying their discharge and limiting the beds available to new patients.

"This is why we are experiencing unavoidable delays in some departments such as Accident and Emergency.

"Our staff, many of whom are working long hours, continue to demonstrate their tireless dedication and commitment to patients during this challenging period."

Health chiefs confirmed that in many cases patients going to A&E required admission but there were no spare beds available with more cases coming in than patients being discharged.

Fiona Clarke, chief executive of NHS Southport and Formby Clinical Commissioning Group said that more than £2 million of extra money had been pumped by the CCG into the local hospital trust this winter to help counter pressures.

She said: "A&E is for people facing life–threatening and serious emergencies such as serious accidents, serious burns, breathing problems, heart attacks and strokes. Therefore we are supporting the 'Examine Your Options' campaign, which highlights the range of health services available to people."

Police launch fresh appeal for information about fatal collision

DETECTIVES have issued a fresh appeal for information about a fatal collision in Scarisbrick.

The incident happened at around 6pm on Tuesday, January 6 on the A570 Southport Road near The Villa Café when a Peugeot Horizon and a Toyota Carina were involved in a head–on collision. It is believed that a grey BMW was involved in an overtake manoeuvre, causing the other two vehicles to collide, before driving off towards the direction of Southport.

The passenger in the Peugeot, 46–year–old Andrew Birch from Skelmersdale, suffered multiple injuries and was taken to Southport Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival. His 80–year–old mother who was driving sustained serious injuries and remains in Aintree Hospital.

A 41–year–old woman from Scarisbrick who was driving the Toyota was taken to Aintree Hospital with serious injuries where she remains in an extremely poorly condition. Her 15–year–old son was taken to hospital with minor injuries but has since been released.

Both families continue to be supported by specially trained officers.

A major investigation was launched and officers are continuing to conduct house–to–house enquiries, CCTV examination and forensic analysis.

And last night (Tuesday, January 13) between 5.30 and 6.30pm officers carried out a roadside appeal close to the site of the collision with occupants of vehicles being asked to fill in questionnaires and given leaflets appealing for information about the collision.

Detectives are also keen to trace a woman who was seen walking her dog at around the time of the collision.

DCI Andy Hulme of the Force Major Investigation Team said: "Although we are making good progress with our enquiries so far, we are still appealing to the public for their help. We still want to hear from anyone who may have any information about the collision that could assist with our investigation. If anybody uses the road on a regular basis and has seen a grey–coloured BMW being driven in an erratic manner we would urge them to come forward.

"In addition, we are particularly keen to trace a woman who was seen walking what was described as a husky dog around the time of the collision.

present one each to the hospital with each child's name as the home–screen for the iPad.

Meanwhile, her efforts also gave a boost to the environment with the collected trees being handed over to National Trust to be used to bind the dunes at Formby beach to halt sand erosion by the wind.

Rosalind, who hopes the event will become an annual fundraiser, told the Champion: "The response we have had is unbelievable, I am absolutely amazed – we raised ten times more than I hoped for. We even collected a tree from one of the radiographers who diagnosed Daniel, which was lovely.

"Now I hope that the families of children treated at Alder Hey will come forward to present the iPads as I think that would be a really sweet way of doing it. And the home–screen can show the name of the child who presents it which will be a nice, personalised way to tell the iPads apart."

She also paid tribute to all those who helped on the day. "We had so many offers of help we didn't have enough vehicles for them all! I just can't thank our amazing volunteers enough.

"Also, Smiths Van Hire in Tarleton very kindly gave us a free van for the day and one of our volunteers works for Stagecoach, who sponsored us, hired a van for us and even had our T–shirts printed."

And Rosalind isn't finished yet. "The JustGiving page is open for another two weeks and we hope to get more donations. We need to get to £2,180 to enable us to buy 10 iPads."

Anyone wishing to donate to the appeal should visit Just Giving and search for Daniel Bell. If you'd like to nominate a child to give an iPad to Alder Hey contact Rosalind on 07734800022.

Residents urged to access heating helpline

Report by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs MP Rose Cooper is urging residents in the borough to access a helpline that can advise them if they are eligible for funding to keep their homes warm this winter.

Research by the Home Heat Helpline shows 600 West Lancashire households are eligible for help from energy companies this winter and they are encouraging people to find out what they could be entitled to.

The independent helpline offers advice on energy efficiency and switching suppliers, as well as eligibility for financial support from individual energy suppliers.

Households that may qualify include those in certain 'deprived' areas, as well as low–income pensioners, disadvantaged families with children or those with a disability living in a rural area.

Rosie Cooper said: "Many people may not know where to turn for free advice on keeping their homes warm. One of the best ways for people in West Lancashire to stay warm this winter is to act now and call the Home Heat Helpline on 0800 33 66 99 to see if they're eligible for help."

Lawrence Slade, chief operating officer at Home Heat Helpline, said: "The research speaks for itself – an astounding 3.2 million households in Britain are entitled to home heating help. As we're now in winter, we are urging people to make a free, confidential call to the Home Heat Helpline on 0800 33 66 99."

Council rents set to increase by 2.2% for 2015–16

Report by Henry James

RENTS for West Lancs Council tenants are set to increase by 2.2% for the 2015–16 financial year.

The council's cabinet were scheduled to discuss the issue at a meeting last night (Tuesday, January 13).

In a report for the meeting, officers explain how they arrived at the figure. This is based on the government's rent restructuring guidance which says rents should be set at the Consumer Price Index from September 2014 – which the Office of National Statistics reports was 1.2% – plus 1%.

The council has to set a budget for its housing account before the beginning of the financial year.

In the report, council officers write: "The budget that is set must enable council and tenant priorities to be delivered but must also be affordable."

IMPACT

Officers also believe Universal Credit, which is being rolled out to West Lancashire as part of the government's welfare reform agenda, could have an impact on rent collection rates and they plan to monitor this situation "closely."

Service charges are also to increase by 2.2% in the next financial year, in line with the rent increase.

Officers defend this decision by stating: "A general principle is applied to service charges that they should be calculated to ensure that they are sufficient to recover the cost of services provided to tenants."

The council are reviewing leasehold service charges and are proposing to consult with leaseholders on proposed changes during 2015–16.

Heating charges are to be reviewed as well.

No increase was made to district heating charges in 2014–15 "due to the favourable state of the heating charge account".

The council want to review district heating charges again in autumn 2015 and will make a report public to cabinet when it is finished.

Rent charges on garages that have been improved will also increase by 2.2% next year. The council has said that because of the "relatively low level" of garages that are let, charges have not been increased for several years.

Marina owner fined for fire safety breaches

Report by Danielle Thompson

The barge and boathouse gutted by the blaze

THE owner of a West Lancashire marina has been fined a total of more than £13,000 for breaches of fire safety regulations following a blaze that gutted a boat on which a couple were living while it was being repaired.

Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service brought the prosecution against Victor Fitzell, the owner of the St Mary's Marina in Rufford, following the fire which broke out in the early hours of May 11 in 2013.

The fire started in the battery compartment of the boat – which was being stored in the boathouse of the marina while undergoing repairs – due to a fault with the electrics.

The man and woman living on the boat were asleep at the time, but although the smoke alarm was faulty, they were woken up by the noise of the blaze and escaped.

They suffered the effects of smoke inhalation requiring a precautionary check by paramedics, but the boat and boathouse were extensively damaged in the incident which was attended by six fire engines and crews.

Mr Fitzell admitted to three charges under the Regulatory Reform Order – failing to ensure people's safety, failing to make a make a suitable fire risk assessment and failure to maintain a fire evacuation procedure for the premises.

He pleaded guilty before a trial date was set and his pleas were heard by a District Judge at Preston Magistrates Court.

The judge took into consideration Mr Fitzell's early plea, good character, his co–operative attitude and that his motive for allowing people to sleep on their boat in the workshop was not financially–driven.

The judge concluded that a correctly undertaken fire risk assessment would have identified the unsuitability of people sleeping in the workshop on their boat and would have established that there was a risk involved, which in his opinion led to a significant failing by Mr Fitzell in not undertaking the correct course of action.

The case was referred for sentencing to Crown Court where Mr Fitzell was fined £7,000 for the three counts, with £5,887 prosecution costs and £120 statutory surcharge, making a total of £13,007.

Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service's group manager, John Buck, who attended the fire, stated: "This fire had the clear potential to result in loss of life or serious injury, both to the owners of the vessel and to the firefighters who took significant risks to ensure that everyone had escaped from the fire.

"All this could have been prevented had there been the correct procedures in place and the relevant fire safety legislation had been complied with – a view that has been clearly shared by the court.

"No one wishes to face such an incident again and I would strongly encourage all those who have similar operations and businesses to contact their local fire service for advice on how best to ensure that they are complying with the law."

Assurances sought over flooding fears

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper is seeking assurances from the local authority that what she called "Burscough's inadequate sewer and drainage system" will be improved ahead of any further development in the area, including the controversial Yew Tree Farm site.

She has written to West Lancashire Borough Council, the Environment Agency, United Utilities and Lancashire County Council to raise residents' concerns that the current Yew Tree Farm masterplan doesn't sufficiently deal with the sewer, drainage and water management issues.

Residents fear the current problems will be made worse with the planned development of at least 500 homes at Yew Tree Farm. They say that in the past, during periods of heavy rainfall, overflowing sewers turned the roads into 'mini rivers' while properties have been flooded with the contents of the foul water drains near to Yew Tree Farm.

It is claimed this is due to the existing infrastructure not being able to cope with the pressure on the system.

Rosie Cooper said: "Given residents' fears and experiences of flooding, it is understandable they are seeking more information and stronger assurances. We can't afford to ignore flooding threats until it is too late.."

Healthcare group meeting

THE NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) will hold their next public board meeting at NHS Hilldale, Wigan Road, Ormskirk on Tuesday, January 27.

The meeting will start at 9.30am and is expected to run for two hours.

Members of the local community are welcome to attend to observe the board meetings.

Questions relating to items on the agenda, which is published a week prior to the meeting, can also be raised by visiting the governing body page of the CCG's website or by contacting 01695 588144 by noon on Monday, January 26.

There is also the opportunity for attendees to have an informal discussion with some of the board members following the closure of the meeting.

Council 'no smoking' policy to include e–cigs

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancs Council is planning to introduce a new policy banning the use of e–cigarettes in buildings operated by the authority.

Although, obviously, the ban would not apply to people smoking the cigarettes within their own council–owned residential properties, tenants and council employees will not be able to use them in shared corridors, hallways and landings.

Officers at the council have decided to review their smoking policy with the reasons for the decision outlined in a council report.

They wrote: "Smoking habits and attitudes to smoking have changed. In more recent years, the awareness and use of products known as electronic cigarettes (e–cigarettes) has increased significantly."

The council's smoking policy was last reviewed in 2006.

The proposed new policy, to be enforced by heads of service, was due to be discussed at a meeting of the council cabinet last night (Tuesday, January 13).

It covers all council buildings, including communal areas in sheltered housing schemes.

In sheltered housing residents and employees will be able to use e–cigarettes within their own living accommodation.

However, the new policy will apply to all elected members, council employees, contractors and visitors.

The 'No Smoking' signage currently used in council buildings will now also include e–cigarettes.

The council have also said that e–cigarettes should not be smoked at any time in vehicles owned by the council.

West Lancs Council is planning to to ban the use of e–cigarettes in its buildings

E–cigarette use breaks will also not be allowed and those employees who use them during work in open space (e.g. grounds maintenance staff) will be persuaded to reduce their use.

The council say they have decided to introduce an e–cigarette policy for a number of reasons.

These include the fact that they are not licensed as a medicine, there have been issues around their safe usage and to recognise the promotion of a good role model for children.

They also believe the new policy will promote a healthy working environment and address the problem of distinguishing them from tobacco cigarettes which can make enforcing policies a problem.

Meanwhile, all applicants for jobs with the council will be made aware of the policy by the authority's human resources team.

And the council has said that employees not complying with the policy will face disciplinary action and repeat offenders will be sacked.

A STUDENT at Edge Hill University who has battled back from having a leg amputated at just eight years of age has been recognised in the New Year Honours list for raising more than £50,000 for charity.

Second–year educational psychology student Mark Peers has been awarded the British Empire Medal for his efforts on behalf of the Alder Hey Children's Charity in Liverpool – including trekking along the great Wall of China!

The 21–year–old from Maghull first became involved with the charity about seven years ago, having been a patient at Alder Hey Hospital almost all his life.

After being born with a cleft lip and palate and numerous other issues, Mark contracted the bone disease Osteomyelitis and despite undergoing a number of operations, treatments and other procedures, he had his right leg amputated in 2001.

Then at the age of 15 he decided he wanted to give something back to the hospital as a thank–you for the support he and his family had received there over the years by raising money and awareness of the children's charity.

He said: "I wanted to acknowledge what Alder Hey and its amazing staff have done for me and my family over the years and raise funds and awareness for this vital institution which cares for so many people.

"I am so proud to have been awarded a BEM for my work."

"I've been involved in numerous events arranged by the charity, including bucket–collecting and selling raffle tickets. And I've also arranged my own events, most recently a charity night in April which was an extremely successful evening."

Mark's most ambitious effort to date was achieved in September last year when he and 16 other fundraisers trekked the Great Wall of China.

Mark Peers after his charity trek in China

And he has other trekking exploits in his sights.

"In September this year I will be trekking Hadrian's Wall, which will of course involve more fundraising events, and then 2016 once my exams are over I plan on trekking the Grand Canyon."

During his time at Edge Hill, Mark has also been awarded an on–course excellence scholarship in volunteering from the university and he is grateful for the support he has received.

"Whilst studying at Edge Hill, staff, student services, my department (psychology) and the Students Union have offered support by giving me ideas for events and activities plus opportunities to fundraise on campus.

"Also, the money from the scholarship will go towards paying for future fundraising events.

"Although I don't know exactly how much I have raised personally, it is estimated to be over £50,000. But of course, I want to keep that total ticking along nicely throughout my life."

Mark will receive his BEM at a local ceremony and will also attend the annual Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace in July.

Support event for budding businesses

Award–winner Kate to be keynote speaker

Report by Henry James

THERE is an opportunity to learn how to launch and grow your own company at a business support event being staged later this month at the West Lancashire Investment Centre.

The centre, at Whitemoss Business Park, Skelmersdale near to junction 4 of the M58, will be hosting Let's Talk Start Up and Growth, a free interactive event aimed at anyone thinking about starting or expanding a business in the borough.

The event, on Thursday, January 29 from 4 to 8pm, will feature workshops, exhibitors, advice, opportunities, and networking for those who attend.

Keynote speaker, award–winning businesswoman and charity founder, Kate Hardcastle, will open the event offering advice to people on how they can put the customer at the heart of their business and giving tips on ways to build and grow as a business, no matter what size or type.

Information will also be offered on how to use social media to grow your business and get support for new and high–growth businesses from the Lancashire LEAP programme with two special workshops available.

However, places are limited and due to expected demand must be pre–booked.

In addition to the workshops there will be a range of exhibitors to provide information, including finance experts, advice on trademarks and patents, help on starting a social enterprise, help with recruitment and skills, plus much more.

There will also be a business connections wall where people can post and reply to notices, sorted by industry, plus the chance to network and expand your business contacts.

Kate Hardcastle

Councillor David Westley, leader of West Lancs Council, said: "The Start up and Growth event is a fantastic opportunity for new or established businesses to learn how to improve and expand.

"I recommend anyone from the local area who wants to start or grow their business to go along and enjoy what's on offer."

The event is free but anyone wishing to attend must register in advance. Visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/businessevents or call 01695 712692 to book a place.

If you want to attend any workshops please specify when booking.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

New plea for information about fatal crash

"She may hold vital information and I would urge her, if she sees this appeal, to come forward and speak to us."

A 56–year–old man from Southport has been arrested on suspicion on causing death by dangerous driving and is currently in custody.

Last week a 29–year–old man from Southport was also arrested in connection with the incident and has been bailed until March.

Anyone with information can contact Lancashire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or online at Crimestoppers–uk.org.

Tory councillor to form new party

Cllr. Owens, who has been in the Tory party for 20 years and stood as a Conservative candidate at the 2010 General Election, said: "Local residents are not being well served by the two main political groups on the council. Both parties are riven by factions, the Conservatives increasingly so, and some of the councillors have forgotten that they are there to serve the public who elected them.

"The complacent culture in the council needs to change. At a presentation on the West Lancashire economy, a subject of key importance to the borough, three–quarters of Conservative councillors failed to attend and the Labour attendance was little better.

"I've also had complaints about Labour councillors not being bothered to support ward resident concerns at planning appeals.

"That's why today, along with Ian Davis and Jane Thompson, we are launching a new group to fight the elections this May.

"Neither of them has been actively involved in local politics before, but both recognise that the current parties are failing West Lancashire. We've named the group, Our West Lancashire because our borough doesn't belong to the Labour party or the Conservative party, but to all of us as residents.

"With the council evenly matched between the two main parties there is a distinct possibility that even a small group of independent councillors could bring some much–needed change to the council.

"I will continue to stand in Derby ward. People voted for a Tory councillor, but they also very much voted for me."

Cllr David Westley responded: "I did not know anything about this and this is completely out of the blue. My initial reaction is what this move will mean for the hung council.

"I am surprised at Adrian's decision as he was out campaigning for Tory candidate Edward McCarthy before Christmas."

And he declared: "There are no factions in the Tory group. Councillors may have different views but that does not mean that there is a faction in the party. I can categorically deny any split."

He added: "I am disappointed in Adrian. Many of us worked hard for him at the General Election in 2010."

Town gets its own weather station

‘Live’ updates available on Edge Hill website

ORMSKIRK now has its own weather station, courtesy of the geography department at Edge Hill University.

Students and staff in the department have set up the automatic weather station, which measures air temperature, rainfall, barometric pressure and relative humidity.

Live data from the station, located on the plant–covered ‘green roof’ of the university’s Geosciences building, is now available to view around the clock on the Edge Hill website.

Head of geogaphy, Nigel Richardson, said: “As a department we’ve had an automatic weather station for eight to ten years but it was getting quite old and a number of sensors were starting to give us problems so we purchased a new one.

“The new weather station has a data logger so it stores the data that it records and links up to a computer enabling ‘live’ feeds, a feature that we really wanted.

“I teach weather and climate to first and second–year students, so the data from the weather station will be used in various practical exercises. I ask students to try to interpret trends and changes in the different variables through using the data alongside synoptic charts available from the Met Office.

“Previously we have had third–year students use longer data records (four to five years) to investigate longer–term variability in weather for dissertation research projects.”

Nigel is currently undertaking a benchmarking exercise comparing the Edge Hill weather station’s recorded data with that from the Met Office station at Crosby.

For live weather statistics for Ormskirk, visit www.edgehill.ac.uk/weather.

These two major problems need sorting now if the NHS is to survive

The NHS is a major news item at the moment.

There are major problems with the NHS that need sorting – now – if the NHS is to survive.

A&E has two major problems.

1. Number of patients arriving for treatment/assesment.

This is aggravated by, in some cases, poor primary care services.

An abysmal out of hours GP locum service is a major contributory factor to this. Patients know that even with a wait of four hours, a visit to A&E is the best way of seeing a doctor.

Even when the 'on call service' do agree to send a doctor to a patient's home, the wait is often lengthy and the frequent outcome is that the doctor instructs the relatives to take the patient to A&E anyway (because he doesn't know the patient and doesn't want to take any responsibility).

The main reason for the failure of the GP out of hours service was the previous government's new GP contract which absolved overall responsibility for patients on their books.

The increased numbers of arrivals at A&E can also be due to the closure of other A&E units in the area (eg. Ormskirk).

2. Not being able to move patients on from A&E after initial treatment.

Most A&E staff respond well in dealing with and prioritising incoming patients. However, difficulty arises after initial treatment in moving treated patients forward onto hospital wards (due in many cases to wards having been closed down) or discharged home or into residential care due to grave shortage of social workers to make necessary arrangements.

This creates the ongoing problem of bedblocking which means that patients who would be able to be moved into a less acute bed are having to be retained on A&E beds and trolleys.

This also affects further patients arriving by ambulance who cannot be handed over by paramedics to hospital staff because no beds (or trolleys) are available and the patient has to remain on the ambulance stretcher meaning the ambulance is unavailable for further work.

Of course, this affects ambulance efficiency causing frequent long delays in dealing with further calls.

Cinema will be no remedy for town's ills – if it ever arrives

RE: The article by Henry James (Champion, December 31) about the Concourse and its vacant shops and the new cinema panacea and Jo Salmon, Concourse manager, pontificating about the effect the new cinema will have on improving vacancy rates (whatever they are).

I don't believe this and wonder where the Concourse owners, London and Cambridge Properties, get this information.

The Cinema is a dead duck before it arrives, if it ever does!

Cinemas are dying due to inflated prices and exaggerated publicity about new films which are blatantly oversold. Also, watching at home is more comfortable and easier on the ear.

The Concourse is a good, cheap shopping centre for a population with high unemployment. An economical facelift would help and as for new tenants, that's easy – reduce the extortionate rents and get the council to reduce the rates.

Finally, for West Lancs Council leader David Wheatley to blame the Concourse "on the way it was built in the 1960s and there is no night–time economy" displays an unbelievable, out–of–touch naivety.

Pointless signs on roads to nowhere

SKELMERSDALE'S cul–de–sac system was apparently designed to reduce road traffic.

In ours I estimate that at least 50% of vehicles arriving at the end, turn and drive straight out again – the reason being poor signage.

Our street is a cul–de–sac with five cul–de–sacs within it. Only the entrance to the first part is showing the 'no through road' symbol, itself being inadequate.

Money seems to have been found to install unenforceable 20mph signs but it would have been better spent pointing traffic in the right direction.

FA should stick to football and leave laws to Parliament

RE: Mr Whelan, chairman and owner of Wigan Athletic FC being fined by the FA for alleged racist comments, when did the FA give themselves civil powers over and above the courts of the land?

The FA's brief concerns them only with the laws on the playing of the game of football.

If someone is alleged to have broken the law, as in this instance by making certain comments, then the police should be notified and it goes from there.

That is all a part of how our society works. The courts uphold the laws made by Parliament which is elected by us, the people.

The FA has ignored this basic fact and themselves should be charged with contempt of our laws.

What we see is political correctness running roughshod over our laws, making in time a very intolerant society where freedom of speech is denied, just like the former East Germany with its Stazi secret police.

Those who advocate this method of government should realise that in time this will cause major problems in our society by restricting freedom of speech.

Message to other owners: Our dogs are on a lead for a reason

WHAT do you think when you see a dog on a lead in a park, or a field, or a beach? Why do you think that dog is on a lead?

Well, let me enlighten you, as from my experience it seems most dog owners have no idea.

It might be that the dog is elderly or that it is a rescue dog the owner is attempting to train.

It might be the dog is poorly or is not friendly with other dogs (it might even be that the owner is not friendly!)

But whichever of these reasons, it is a matter of consideration and manners that other dog owners keep their wayward, loony, over–friendly and ill–mannered Fido out of the face of said dog.

I often wonder if these dog owners are the sort of person who would like to be in my own personal space, jumping around and prodding my nose?

Would they like it done to them? Well, why on earth do they think this is acceptable to another dog?

To all dog owners, please give this some thought in the future.

It might help your dog stay safe but I guarantee it will result in less fights – both canine and human.

Redevelopment of blaze–hit former mill near completion

THE redevelopment of the former Ainscough Mill in Burscough is nearing completion, less than a year after the local landmark was engulfed in a huge blaze.

Around 100 nearby homes had to be evacuated when fire broke out in the iconic building in the early hours of March 11 last year. At the height of the blaze more than 50 firefighters tackled the flames and the adjacent railway line and Leeds–Liverpool Canal were closed for several hours.

Developers Persimmon Homes have converted the historic mill, situated just off Mill Lane, into 56 properties which went on sale this week, starting at around £140,000.

Financial support for small businesses – where to start?

As a small business owner, what keeps you awake at night? For many, balancing the books is top of the list. Healthy finances are crucial to allow you to both invest in your business whilst protecting it from what the future may bring. Fortunately, there is a range of government support available to help your business to be secure and most importantly, grow.

One example of a small business which has received government financial support is Trunki. Their innovatively designed products (including their famous children's suitcase) have enabled them to access a range of government products and services, helping them to take huge leaps as a business.

"Trunki has received government support in a number of ways." explains Rob Law, founder of Trunki. "Firstly, we worked hard to re-shore our manufacturing to our plastics moulding factory in Plymouth, allowing us to benefit from The Patent Box scheme."

The Patent Box enables companies to apply a lower rate of corporation tax to profits earned from patented inventions. It is being phased in over a four-year period and once the full benefit of the Patent Box is in effect (from April 2017) it will result in a ten per cent rate of corporation tax being applied to such returns.

"We have always applied for patents for all of our products to build up our IP portfolio, it's one of the most valuable assets we have" said Law. "This scheme is brilliant, allowing us to re-invest more of our earnings back into the business. It motivated us to stay in the UK and not to offshore. It rewards inventive companies too, which can only be a good thing."

"Secondly, we received government support through R&D tax credits for the development of our BoostAPak children's car seat and for the re-engineered version of our Trunki suitcases, which is now easier to manufacture in the UK and to recycle."

There are many types of financial support available to businesses with ambitions to grow. As well as the increasing variety of finance sources now available (such as crowdfunding, bank loans and peer-to-peer lending) there are many government schemes and incentives (on top of those Trunki accessed) devised to help small businesses secure the funding they need to succeed.

For example, your business may be eligible for financial support packages such as the Enterprise Investment Scheme, SMART grants or Social Investment Tax Relief. Or perhaps your business needs the support to secure initial funding to help turn your idea into a reality.

To learn about all of the finance options available to you and your business, and for more detail on how the government can support you financially, visit www.greatbusiness.gov.uk/finance

Careers advice for young people

LANCASHIRE County Council's young people's service is hosting a 'New Year, New Start' event at Skelmersdale library, Southway on Thursday (January 15) from 3.30 to 6pm.

Aimed at those aged between 16 and 24, the recruitment and training initiative will provide information about apprenticeships, training courses and jobs that are available.

It will also offer young people from throughout West Lancashire the opportunity to chat to employers, representatives from training providers and the local Job Centre about how to make the most of the opportunities on offer. They wil also have the chance to chat to some young people who have completed training programmes.

There will also be information about advice, guidance and support available, along with career kick–starts, traineeships, free bus passes for eligible young people and college courses.

More information on the event is available on 01695 651350 / 651311.

Hardship fund set up to help the needy

WEST Lancashire residents can apply for a grant from a £5,000 fund set up to help people who need extra support to keep warm and well through the winter.

Adult support service Help Direct are working with West Lancashire Borough Council to promote the Winter Warm scheme's hardship fund.

To qualify you must have a health condition and be aged over 65 and in receipt of a qualifying benefit; have dependent children aged 14 or under and in receipt of a qualifying benefit; or be a single person/couple aged under 65 without dependent children and in receipt of a qualifying benefit.

The qualifying benefits are Income Support; Income Based Job Seeker's Allowance; Income Based ESA; Guarantee Pension Credit; Child Tax Credit or Working Tax Credit (with an annual income of less than £15,860 per year); Universal Credit; War Disablement Pension (must include mobility supplement or constant attendance allowance) or Industrial Injuries Benefit (must include constant attendance allowance).

A spokesman for Help Direct said: "There is £5,000 available. So far people have accessed the fund to make top–up payments for gas and electricity and there are other interventions available such as help to purchase electric blankets/heaters and other means to help people stay warm and well.

"The aim of the fund is to keep people warm and well throughout the winter. The application is very straightforward and will be completed by a Help Direct Advisor. Even if someone doesn't qualify using the criteria below and they are experiencing hardship please refer to us as there may be other avenues to explore."

For more information on the eligibility and type of help available via the hardship fund contact Help Direct and quote West Lancashire Winter Warm Scheme. Referrals can be made via Referrals/Partner enquiries: 0303 333 1039 or info@loc.helpdirectlancs.org.uk.

Report by Henry James

ALTHOUGH the start of a new year is a time of hope for many people, for victims of domestic abuse it can be a time when a recurring nightmare becomes even worse.

Official figures from previous years show an average increase of 22% of reports of domestic abuse in West Lancashire between December and January.

And over the last 12 months, 154 cases of domestic abuse in the borough have been taken to court.

In 50% of domestic violence cases, children can get hurt too, either by being subjected to violence themselves or witnessing it.

However, help is at hand.

The Liberty Centre, formerly Domestic Violence Support Services (West Lancashire) helped a total of 637 women and families between April and September 2014. Many of these were referred by the police or other agencies, while others went themselves. More than a third of them were deemed to be at a medium or high risk of domestic violence, and the centre is currently supporting 159 families.

Now the West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership (WLCSP) is sending a message to victims that help is available for those suffering.

Anyone who is forced to alter their behaviour because they are frightened of their partner's reaction is being abused. Research has shown that abuse can happen at any stage of a relationship and is very rarely a one–off. One in four women will suffer from domestic abuse at some stage in their lives.

The WLCSP is supporting the White Ribbon Campaign, which calls on men to take a stand against domestic violence.

Councillor David Sudworth, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for community safety, said: "If you are reading this and think you are a victim of domestic abuse, or you think someone else may be a victim, please talk to someone you trust. Or you can call the police, or the Liberty Centre or a national helpline.

"It is important to stress that while more than 80 per cent of victims in domestic violence cases are women, men are also the victims of domestic abuse."

West Lancashire police inspector June Chessell said: "We cannot allow victims of domestic abuse to suffer. We will act to bring perpetrators to justice whenever we can and will work with our partner agencies to support victims to leave abusive relationships."

The Liberty Centre has a free, confidential 24–hour helpline number 0808 100 3062. And the centre's confidential counselling and legal advice services for victims is open every day except bank holidays.

West Lancashire Women's Refuge offers short–term emergency accommodation.

David Tilleray, West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership chairman, said: "Domestic abuse is a crime. We want victims to know they are not alone and if they approach those services that can help them their complaints will be handled with care by people sympathetic to what they are going through.

"We would urge members of the community to report any problems with domestic violence they are aware of."

For details about services available to people suffering domestic violence visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/domesticviolence. For information on the White Ribbon Campaign go to www.whiteribboncampaign.co.uk.

The Broken Rainbow national helpline numbers for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people are 0800 999 5428, and 0300 999 5428.

The police can be contacted on their non–emergency number 101 or in an emergency ring 999.

Diggers go for gold!

Report by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of a newly–formed club are hoping to become 'gold–diggers' – in the nicest possible sense!

The Ormskirk Metal Detecting Club was officially launched online at ormskirkmdc.co.uk this month and founder, Tony O'Keefe says any West Lancs residents keen to have a go are welcome to go along and join in the fun.

Tony, who hails from Ormskirk, is hopeful that, with the town's historic links to the Vikings, the enthusiasts have a good chance of striking gold – any other precious metals!

He said: "We are a new group of hobby enthusiasts who like to visit any sites to try out our metal detectors to seek out all the hidden treasures and heritage of our lands which have been buried throughout the years.

"This area is especially interesting due to Ormskirk's historic local Viking heritage.

"We welcome new members and hope to grow our membership to allow all interested people to try out our hobby."

As well as Ormskirk, it is planned to hold digs across Merseyside and Lancashire, including Aughton, Skelmersdale, Maghull, Crosby, Bootle, Southport, Ellesmere Port, St Helens, Wigan and the Wirral.

And members are encouraged to look at other areas as well.

Digs dig will run from 9am to 4pm, usually at weekends, and will be posted on the website several weeks in advance.

Annual membership of the club costs £8, which covers insurance against any damage caused to property while digging.

For more information or to join the club, visit ormskirkmdc.co.uk

Smells bring back the whiff – or odour – of days gone by

WHICH of your senses do you find the most likely to bring back memories, happy, sad, good or bad?

Personally, I think smell is likely to be the most evocative – and often the most puzzling.

Some smells, like hot tar or freshly–brewed coffee, are almost certain to bring back memories.

In my case, the smell of tobacco about a person is actually very pleasant because just about my earliest childhood memory is being carried along the canal bank by my dad, with my face buried in the lapel of his jacket which smelled of Wills Wild Woodbine cigarettes. To this day, contrary to most people, I find the smell comforting.

Another is the smell of lilac blossom.

Again, an early memory is holding my granny's hand as we walked past lilac in the early evening at Butlin's Holiday Camp at Pwllheli.

A memory of pleasure which never fades.

But smell is a strange word. It can denote something nice or nasty.

'You smell nice' is good. But just 'you smell' sets folk looking for the deodorant (and probably new friends) so definitely is not.

And similes for smell, too, must be very confusing to anyone for whom English is not their first language.

Take aroma. If you are talking about the aroma of coffee, that is obviously pleasant.

But to say something has a 'strange aroma' surely implies the opposite.

Or odour. On its own, not necessarily something very good. Unless you say something is in good odour – so obviously it can be good too.

Mind you, stink cannot be anything but odorous, with pong being much the same.

Stench and reek, too, are hard to use except in a positively disgusting way – but whiff is another of those smell words which can imply pleasure or its opposite.

Anyway, that just about exhausts my immediate stock of smell words – and is just another example, I suppose, of the complexity and richness of our language.

In fact, though, it doesn't by any means imply that it is only by adding or changing words immediately before or after the word you select that its meaning can easily be changed.

Just the inflection of your voice can do the same job.

Try it with 'what's that smell?'

You can use it just as well if the drains are blocked or if the room is permeated by the smell of roses.

It's just the way you tell 'em!

Perhaps the recent Christmas season brought about these musings.

Most festive smells are good and a reminder of happy times – mince pies or Christmas dinner cooking, perhaps a cheerful log fire or a whiff of pine needles.

All kinds of everything – except the smell of turkey burning or of overheating wiring coming from somewhere inaccessible.

Or gravy boiling all over the cooker – a smell I fear I can smell just now.

Hurried goodbyes!

KEEP SAFE FROM FIRE – AT EVERY LEVEL

A few too many celebratory nights out and overindulgence during the festive season mean many of us are spending the cold, dark winter evenings at home in the new year. But those domestic treats to cheer us – the heater turned up to 'max', candles giving a soft glow and perhaps some chips cooking in the kitchen – can bring greater risks of fire in the home.

That's why the Fire Kills campaign together with fire and rescue services around the country is asking you and your household to take extra care and is recommending a few simple steps to keep everyone safe. These simple steps save lives.

More than nine out of ten homes now have at least one smoke alarm installed. But fire can break out anywhere in the home. To make sure that any smoke does set off your smoke alarms, install at least one on every level of your home and especially close to where you sleep.

If you test them at least monthly you can be confident that they are all working properly – both the power supply and the detection mechanism. Then you can be sure that you and your household will have the earliest possible warning of danger should a fire break out.

Last year 213 people died in fires in their home. The most common reason why smoke alarms didn't go off was because smoke did not reach the detector. Another reason was that the batteries were flat or missing. Working smoke alarms on every level really can save lives.

Once you know fire has started in your home, get out, stay out and call '999'. But how are you going to get out? That is the next simple step we are urging you to think about now – your escape routes. The best one is your normal way in and out of your home. Then you need a good back-up plan in case the fire is blocking that route.

Make sure all your routes are always clear of blockages you can control, like boxes and toys, and everyone knows where door and window keys are kept. A household planning session and practice run can be a life-saver for everyone – especially those who might need extra help with some routes or are a little slower. Most people overestimate their ability to escape a fire – often not realising the deadly effect of smoke. Surveys suggest that around 70 per cent of older people fall into this group but, sadly, over half of the people who died in recent domestic fires in England were aged 65 and over.

Don't risk tragedy in a fire in your home, follow these three simple steps:

- Install a smoke alarm on every level and near sleeping areas
- Test them at least monthly to make sure they are all working
- Plan and practise your escape routes and keep them clear.

Inspectors praise school's leadership and development

STAFF at a primary school are celebrating after their 'outstanding' leadership and management and 'rapid and sustained development' were praised in the latest Ofsted report.

Tarleton Academy was inspected last month under the latest Ofsted framework.

The report praised the leadership of teaching, the governance of the academy in Hesketh Lane and the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of its students as 'outstanding' and also praised the 'consistently good and outstanding teaching.'

The academy's 'rapid and sustained development' during the last three years brought it to within a whisker of an overall outstanding judgement.

The report further stated: "Inspection evidence shows the progress of students currently in the academy is continuing to rise because leaders and managers have set much more demanding targets for progress and achievement."

Headteacher, Lesley Gwinnett, who took over running the school in September 2011, said: "Over the last three years there has been significant advancement in many key areas, including leadership at senior and middle level, standards of teaching and learning, the now excellent behaviour of students and the fantastic progress they are subsequently making.

"There were a number of crucial 'legacy' issues to address but we are now confident that on a day–to–day basis we are a thriving, enthusiastic, skilled and committed staff who enjoy really positive and fruitful relationships and outcomes with our students, their families and the wider community.

"With the high calibre of students of all abilities that we have at the school, this is as it should be."

Chair of governors, Helen Dicker, said: "I am delighted that the current generation of children in the school are reaping the rewards of all the hard work that has gone into making it such a superb environment in which to learn and develop as happy, well–rounded young people."

June opening date for new supermarket

An artist's impression of how the new Booths supermarket will look, in the style of an aircraft hangar

THE new Booths supermarket in Burscough is set to open in June.

It will be the first store to open on the new Ringtail Retail Park.

Work started on the site in November 2013 and the supermarket is being built in the shape of a World War Two hangar to link in with the heritage of the retail park's location on the site of the former HMS Ringtail Fleet Air Arm station.

The HMS Ringtail war memorial was moved from its previous position to allow the access road for the park to be built.

This will be the second Booths supermarket in West Lancashire, following the opening of the Hesketh Bank store in 2010.

The company's property director, Graham Booth, said: "We look forward to bringing a vibrant and modern retail destination to Burscough. We will be working closely with the developers to ensure a food store of the highest quality is delivered."

Scam victims get money back after crackdown

Report by Henry James

FOUR people in West Lancashire have received money back, thanks to a crackdown on 'prize draw' mail scams.

In June last year the National Trading Standards Scams Team and Royal Mail launched an initiative to seize responses to mail scams before the cash reaches the criminals behind them.

To date, more than 6,000 items of mail have been intercepted across the UK with more than £108,000 returned to victims. A further 4,000 replies to suspected scam mail are currently being examined.

Crucially, victims receive their money back from a Trading Standards officer who visits to make sure the person understands they have been scammed and to check on their welfare.

Prize draw scams are notorious for targeting the elderly and other vulnerable people, who are less likely to realise that the mail is a scam.

County Councillor Janice Hanson, Lancashire's cabinet member for public protection services, said: "It can be very difficult to persuade vulnerable, often elderly, people that letters telling them they have won large sums of money are scams.

County Councillor Janice Hanson

"The fact that we are able to contact them directly with the money they sent, along with very clear advice, should really help to break the cycle in many cases. Every cheque or money returned is another person helped and another blow to the criminals.

"I'm very pleased with the progress so far and we look forward to continuing this important work."

The National Trading Standards Scams Team has also obtained a list of 160,000 people across the UK who have been identified by scammers as repeat victims.

The list of names, compiled by criminals to focus their scams, is being passed to local Trading Standards officers who can then contact people to make them aware they are being targeted.

Trading Standards officers in Lancashire are working closely with safeguarding staff to ensure that victims who are identified as vulnerable receive appropriate support and referral.

Cllr. Hanson added: "Often those targeted by scammers are some of the most vulnerable people in Lancashire, and this information means we're able to check that they're receiving the support they need in terms of social care and other services."

If you think you, or someone you know, may be a victim of prize draw scams, get in touch with Citizens Advice Consumer Service on 03454 04 05 06.

People can also report suspected fraudulent mail scams by writing to Royal Mail at Freepost Scam Mail, calling 03456 113 413, or by email to scam.mail/@royalmail.com.

Advice Bureau launches skills courses in search for volunteers

Chance to boost career prospects and give something back to community

Report by Henry James

Keep in touch with the local news and views on our website
www.champnews.com

PEOPLE are being offered free training in career skills and the opportunity to give something back to their community at the same time in an initiative launched by Citizens Advice aimed at attracting more volunteers.

New training courses created by Lancashire West Citizens Advice Bureau could be the first step on the ladder for people to work in many new careers, as well as preparing them to help others with the many issues they face in life.

Volunteers will undergo a series of tutorial sessions with licensed CAB trainers, plus six months of practical experience working one day a week in one of the bureau's local centres.

They can train in a number of skills including reception, telephone skills, client assessment and advice.

CAB training for generalist advisers is equal to a Level 3 qualification in Providing Initial Legal Information and Advice.

Diane Gradwell, Lancashire West chief executive, said: "This will be a fantastic opportunity for anyone looking to gain new skills at the same time as making a valuable contribution to the community.

Diane Gradwell

"Whether they are unemployed, in further education, planning to return to work or simply looking for a better job, volunteering with the CAB can be a useful career step as well as immensely rewarding in itself. All we ask is that they have some basic IT skills and preferably see the course through to the end."

Anyone interested in the training can call 01772 425912 or email volunteer@lw.cabnet.org.uk to find out more. Courses begin this month.

TV focus on red squirrels' fight for survival

THE battle for survival faced by Lancashire's red squirrels over the last 10 years – including a deadly virus that almost wiped the species out and the rise of invasive grey squirrels – featured in the Newsround TV programme last Friday (January 9).

The programme, which can be viewed online, saw presenter Martin Dougan meet with Lancashire Wildlife Trust's red squirrel project officer, Rachel Miller at the National Trust's Formby reserve to discuss the squirrels.

Recently there have been sightings of red squirrels across the area, including at Skelmersdale and Bickerstaffe and at the Wildlife Trust's nature reserve at Mere Sands Wood near Rufford.

New–look cafe with local flavour

Family–run bistro takes on teenage trainees

By Danielle Thompson

THE owners of a café which has undergone 18 months of refurbishments say they are delighted to have been able to take on four young apprentices from the area.

Craig and Cathy Walsh's Infusions Café Bistro in Burscough has been extended into the shop next door and extensively refurbished with the fitting of a new kitchen and bar.

And although the work took 18 months in total to complete, the couple were able to stay open for most of that time and only forced to close briefly while the finishing touches were applied.

They have also extended their opening hours to allow them to serve an evening bistro menu at the cafe in Orrell Lane.

Craig said: "We are very much a family–run business and our chef, Paul Moore, is Cathy's brother.

"We are also pleased to have been able to employ four young people from within Burscough as we have such brilliant support here.

Craig and Cathy Walsh of Infusions Café Bistro

"We have taken the teenagers – Mollie Hardy, 18, Heather Watson and Keith Staines, both 19, and 17–year–old Robert Woods – on as trainees and apprentices.

"Mollie is doing an NVQ level 2 in catering and hospitality apprenticeship and Heather will soon be starting an NVQ level 2 front of house apprenticeship, both with North Lancs Training Group who have been our training provider for four years.

"Robert is a trainee chef NVQ level 2 at Southport College and Keith has joined us after completing his level 3 NVQ in cookery at Blackburn college and has previously worked at the Blue Mallard.

"We look around and see so many people who have grown up here, staying in the area and setting up some brilliant, successful businesses that are really moving Burscough forward and enhancing the village and we are proud to be a part of that."

Public feedback prompts county change of heart on transport cuts

LANCASHIRE County Council has decided not to include plans for 100% cuts in spending on subsidised bus services and subsidised denominational school transport in their budget proposals to deliver £216m in savings by April 2018.

This decision was made after the council took note of public feedback over the last few months.

But the authority is seeking views on a proposed 1.99% increase in council tax for the coming financial year, which they say will help protect local services.

David Borrow, deputy leader and portfolio holder for finance, said: "We have to find unprecedented savings due to a combination of cuts imposed by central government and rising demand for essential services such as social care.

"This means that in addition to the £21m of savings for 2015/16 already identified in last year's budget, we have identified a further £79.8m of savings to be made this year. Between 2010 and 2018 we will have made savings of £547 million, which requires radical action.

"We can make some savings by introducing more intelligent and efficient ways of working. However, it is also clear that we will have to deliver some services in a different way and stop providing some services altogether.

"We will do all we can to ensure that we protect the most vulnerable in the county and we are also committed to spending our resources fairly, according to need.

"As a cabinet we are not supporting the option of removing bus subsidies or financial support for children travelling to denominational schools, having listened to feedback from the consultation we've carried out over recent months.

"We are now carrying out a further consultation before the full council meeting in February takes the final decision on the budget."

Speaking about the proposed council tax increase, Cllr. Borrow added: "This modest increase will bring in additional funds that will make a real difference to local services. Equivalent to just over 42p per week for a band D property, the increase would bring in an additional £7.5m, the equivalent of protecting more than 180 children's social workers or repairing more than 300,000 potholes.

"We realise times are tough but hope that local council tax payers will understand why we are proposing this."

You can find out more at the Budget – Have Your Say page at www.lancashire.gov.uk.

Local care company earns outstanding rating

A WEST Lancashire care company has been named as one of the first three adult social care services in England to be judged as outstanding by the latest Care Quality Commison reports.

Home Instead Senior Care West Lancashire, which provides care and companionship for adults and older people in their own homes, received the highest rating possible from the CQC under its new system, which recognises the critical importance of compliance and credits overall quality of care service.

Home Instead is run by Gail and Robert Godson.

Gail trained as a nurse and went on to gain 30 years' experience in the health care service, while husband Robert previously worked for the government modernising public services.

The couple set up the Home Instead Senior Care office based in Ormskirk in 2012, as part of national home care provider Home Instead Senior Care UK, who provide care and companionship.

Under the CQC's new programme of inspections, all adult social care services are rated as outstanding, good, requires improvement or inadequate.

Gail said: "We could not deliver that excellence of care without our committed team of caregivers and I would like to dedicate this rating to each and every one of them, they are our superheroes."

MP backs call for concessionary travel for OAPs

ROSIE Cooper has met with West Lancashire Pensioners Forum and Merseytravel chairman, Councillor Liam Robinson in a bid to secure concessionary rail travel for pensioners in the region.

The West Lancs MP is supporting calls by members of the forum for a fair deal on rail travel for pensioners in the borough, similar to that enjoyed by those in Liverpool and Southport who have access to free and concessionary bus and train services.

Merseytravel have expressed their willingness to work with neighbouring authorities to explore all options and their openness to negotiating a deal that would see pensioners get concessionary rail travel.

However, any deal would be dependent upon securing the necessary funding from the relevant local authorities.

It would also need to take in services beyond the Ormskirk to Liverpool line, including the Southport–to–Manchester and Ormskirk–to–Preston services.

Rosie Cooper said: "It was a very positive meeting with West Lancashire Pensioners Forum and I want to thank Liam Robinson for meeting with us.

"Delivering concessionary rail travel is not easy given the costs but at least neighbouring transport authorities are open to negotiation, an arrangement that could provide a fair deal on rail travel for pensioners and other concessionary travellers.

"With councils slashing their budgets, we face a tough fight but I've committed to getting all the relevant authorities around the table to start this process and explore the options."

Drinkers warned about super–strength spirit

DRINKERS are being warned to steer clear of a potentially lethal super–strength spirit on sale in Lancashire.

Trading standards officers in the county say just two shots of the drink, labelled as either Spirytus or Spirytus Rektyfikowanya, could prove fatal.

The spirit is a base alcohol with an ABV (alcohol by volume) level of 95% which is generally used in Eastern Europe for producing homemade liqueurs.

Rachel Wilcock from Lancashire's Trading Standards Service said: "We are aware that these products are on sale in some Polish shops in Lancashire and we want to make unsuspecting customers aware at the earliest opportunity about this issue.

"An ABV of 95% is simply too strong an alcohol to be drunk neat, as a shot drink.

"We suspect the product may not have adequate labelling, i.e. not having instructions for use in English, and therefore poses a hazard to people who consume it neat.

"Most spirit drinks are around the 40% ABV mark, so this is more than double the strength of regular spirits. We don't want people to misuse the product thereby posing a risk to their health and possibly their lives.

"There has been an instance in Australia where a young girl drank the product and subsequently died and we don't want this to happen to anyone else.

"Scientific evidence suggests that just two shots of this drink could kill you so we are very keen to liaise with the shops where it's on sale to make sure it is sold safely and legally.

"If anyone sees the product on sale in Lancashire, they are asked to contact the Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline on 03454 040506."

Martin Mere staff set up international tracking operation after cygnet goes missing in Ireland

The family of swans in Iceland Code NA

Report by Henry James

AN international tracking operation has been set up after a family of swans at the Martin Mere Wetland Centre left behind one of their cygnets in Ireland.

Over the summer, species monitoring assistant at the Burscough centre, Kane Brides, spent time in Iceland monitoring and researching Whooper swans and Pink–footed geese on their breeding grounds.

During this time a family of five swans were ringed at Engivtn in northern Iceland on August 4 – BZS, BZL, BZN, BZP plus the parents BZJ and Y9S (pictured with Kane).

Kane said: "What is unique about this story is that BZJ and Y9S have recently escaped the cold weather and arrived at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre with just three cygnets with them (BZL, BZN & BZP) and we had sadly assumed that the fourth cygnet had died during the migration.

"However, news came in last week that a cygnet was seen in Ireland on December 27, unusually staying on the fringes of the flock.

"George McDermott contacted WWT and we were astounded to see that this young swan was BZS. He has either been ditched or simply left behind in Ireland which is rare to hear of.

"He will be staying on the fringes of the flock with having no family to back him up if disputes occur but it is great to hear that he is alive, albeit alone."

The cygnet BZS is currently at Inch Wildfowl Reserve in Ireland and is now as part of an international tracking operation between England, Ireland and Iceland to see if the swan reunites with its family either at WWT Martin Mere this winter or back in Iceland in the spring.

County Financial Services - finding you the best deal

BNI FEATURE

Shopping for Mortgages and Insurance policies is not at the top of most people's favourites' list. With so many options available it can be confusing at best and completely mind boggling at worst. However, a good broker can point you in the right direction and make sure that you make the right decision.

At County Financial Services there are no acronyms, no jargon just simple straight forward answers to all matters relating to Mortgages and Insurance.

Paul Gilchrist, has over 20 years' experience within the financial services industry, and adds: "Being an Independent Mortgage and Insurance broker means that I have access to around 80 lenders and over 2000 Mortgage products, including exclusive deals that are not normally available on the high street. Based on this I am ideally positioned within the market place to find the most competitive Mortgage and Insurance deals to meet the majority of my client's financial circumstances"

FOR EXAMPLE WE CAN ASSIST WITH:

Home Movers/First Time Buyers:

- Competitive Interest Rates
- Access to the Government Help to Buy/Equity
- Loan scheme which means you can buy a house with a deposit from 5%

Landlords:

- Source finance to buy or refurbish rental properties
- Landlords Insurance

Existing Mortgage Customers:

The signals from the Bank of England indicate that a Bank Rate rise may be on the cards. So if you are thinking of improving (or increasing) your current deal now may be a good opportunity to have a review and consider fixing your Mortgage costs.

Insurance:

We also deal in all aspects of insurance such as Life Insurance, Sickness Cover, Critical Illness Cover, Private Medical Insurance and Home Insurance so here at County Financial Services you can get all your financial needs in the one place.

Our aim is to make the process of arranging a Mortgage or Insurance product as stress free as possible for our clients. Even if you feel you could handle the whole process yourself, the likely reality is that your work and home commitments already mean you have enough on your plate that's why people are increasingly turning to County Financial Services.

Paul says: "I am a member of BNI based in Southport, I joined BNI to develop my business contacts within the local community and grow my business, BNI gives me the opportunity to do this, along with making new contacts nationwide"

Please also contact Paul Gilchrist if you are interested in joining BNI.

We offer appointments at a time and place to suit you, whether its evenings or weekends, to arrange an appointment please contact us on 01704 517828 (FREEPHONE 0800 2100264) or Paul Gilchrist directly on 07718770350 or email paul@countyfinancialservices.co.uk.

New year, new opportunity.

The new year marks your very last chance to move to the best address in the area.

THIS IS THE FINAL PHASE OF THE PRESTIGIOUS GRAMMAR SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT

As we all welcome a new year, we also welcome the final opportunity to own one of the fabulous new 1 & 2 bedroom apartments at Cramford House in Ormskirk.

Built by respected housebuilder Dorbcrest at the Old Grammar School on Ruff Lane, perfect for Ormskirk's main amenities, this is one of the most prestigious developments in this part of Lancashire - and one look inside them tells you why.

Dorbcrest Homes understand that everyone is unique and that they want to make their home that little bit special so they give purchasers the opportunity to work with their dedicated interior designer. "Your home is the single biggest purchase you will make so it's important to us that each home is a magnificent residence in its own right", says Adele Morey, Sales Manager. The bespoke design service is available at no extra charge to help you personalise your new home and gain advice on everything from soft furnishings to paint colours. "We don't mind going that extra mile, it's all part of the service with Dorbcrest Homes".

Cramford House has 15 such properties, complete with gated secure parking and easy access via the lift system, featuring light and airy open plan lounges, bay windows, luxurious fixtures and fittings and uncompromising standards and attention to detail - they call it the 'Dorbcrest Difference'.

As the very final stage of this development, this really is your last opportunity to make one of these luxurious apartments your own; especially with Dorbcrest's part-exchange and Help to Buy schemes making them surprisingly affordable.

For full details of the apartments at Cramford House, call Dorbcrest on 01695 580720 or 07909 523950.

New year, new home, new lifestyle!

Located in the sought after location of Upholland, near Wigan, Hillcrest is the latest select development by Wainhomes.

Offering a collection of stunning 4 bedroom luxury family homes our Hillcrest development is situated in a prime position, within close proximity of major commuter routes, making Manchester and Liverpool very accessible. Boasting contemporary style with a timeless quality and attention to detail, this development offers a unique opportunity to purchase your dream home.

Upholland is situated on a small hill, rising above the West Lancashire Coastal Plain, offering stunning views of the High Peak of Derbyshire as well as Liverpool and Southport. Each house is built to the highest specification, with quality craftsmanship integrated into each aspect of the build.

Modern building regulations ensure that every new homeowner at Hillcrest will benefit from high energy efficiency standards throughout the property.

Among the house designs currently available are the Scott 4 bedroom home which offers spacious accommodation over 2 floors including large lounge, fitted kitchen with utility room, separate dining room, downstairs cloaks, en-suite to master bedroom and family bathroom; and the Brunel, a 4 bedroom home which includes large lounge/dining, kitchen, separate utility, downstairs cloaks, master bedroom with en-suite and family bathroom.

Both properties include single garage, double driveway and feature split level south west facing rear gardens and are available at just £224,950.

Sharon Wood, Regional Sales Director for Wainhomes Northwest, commented "Hillcrest is a truly unique development offering an exclusive collection of luxury homes. This development is proving to be hugely popular and receiving high levels of interest.

New season launched at Edge Hill's Arts Centre

AN eclectic spring season of events has been announced for Edge Hill University's Arts Centre.

For the first time, the venue will feature a number of live theatre screenings, from the Royal Shakespeare Company and the National Theatre, including the RSC's Love's Labour's Lost, Love's Labour's Won (Much Ado About Nothing), and The Merchant of Venice, and National Theatre Live productions Behind the Beautiful Forevers, Treasure Island, and The Hard Problem.

TV and stage star Maxine Peake's acclaimed Hamlet performance at Manchester's Royal Exchange Theatre last year, will also be screened on March 23 and April 9.

A host of dramatic performances will take centre stage during the coming months. Multi–award winning Theatre Ad Infinitum return on January 27, to perform their sci–fi production Light, inspired by Edward Snowden's revelations and the ensuing debate on state surveillance; The Angry Roads by world–renowned dramatist Edward Bond, can be seen on February 2, and A Journey Round My Skull, a tale of a passionate and painful love affair told by a neurosurgeon, follows on February 5.

The extremes of human emotion will also be explored this season. On February 10, Liverpool–based physical theatre company Tmesis perform That's Amoré, an hilarious, fast–paced, passionate and poignant piece about romantic love. Near Gone on February 17, explores what it is to be a mother, a father, a child, and So it Goes on March 10 continues the theme, exploring the light and dark sides of grief, in a playful and deeply personal show. Dalloway on April 23 is Dyad Productions' adaptation of Virginia Woolf's celebrated map of hearts, minds and memories and offers a feminine response to the aftermath of the First World War. Inspired by Japanese mythology and performed on March 3, Rouge28 Theatre's tragic Urashima Taro is a dreamlike fairytale for adults and a story about lust, betrayal and loss.

The cast of That's Amore

On February 24 there's a chance to be spooked by a monstrous, disturbing, and completely batty telling of Dracula, and the eerie theme continues with The Various Lives of Infinite Nullity on February 26 where absurdism and dark clowning abound followed by cult classic Jekyll and Hyde on March 16, and a thrilling adaptation of Oscar Wilde's only novel The Picture of Dorian Gray on April 21.

Children have a lot to look forward to with a host of family friendly shows heading to the Arts Centre, starting with Hansel and Gretel on January 24, followed by When Trolls Try to Eat Your Goldfish on February 21, Where Caterpillars Go on March 7, Ugly Duckling on April 25 and Rapunzel on June 3.

Classic Maugham play to be staged by town's drama club

Report by Ron Ellis

SOUTHPORT Dramatic Club start the second half of their season with that ever popular, classic Somerset Maugham play, The Constant Wife, directed by David Davies.

Constance Middleton is that very rare creature, a witty, intelligent and irresistibly charming woman. When she discovers her husband is having an affair with her best friend, she refuses to throw him out of the family home. Instead, she comes up with a far more dignified way of preserving her dignity.

Sandra Unsworth plays Constance whose philandering husband, John (Howard Kernahan) is seeing her best friend, Marie–Louise (Phillipa Hipwell), wife of Mortimer (Peter Slater).

Making up the rest of the cast are: Margaret Mann, Trudi Hirsch, Diane Mackley, Leslie Cheeseman and Simon Hawkins.

This sparkling comedy, featuring Somerset Maugham's legendary sharp wit and biting sense of humour, is a play not to be missed.

Treasure Island coming to theatre

ROBERT Louis Stevenson's famous story, Treasure Island, is to be streamed live to The Atkinson from The National Theatre in London.

It's a dark, stormy night. The stars are out. A female Jim, the inn–keeper's granddaughter, opens the door to a terrifying stranger.

At the old sailor's feet sits a huge sea–chest, full of secrets. Jim invites him in – and their dangerous voyage begins.

The story is about murder, money and mutiny. Treasure Island starts at 7pm on Thursday, January 22.

PRAYER

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours. This time I ask for one special favour. (mention it)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted. Never to be failed.

IN MEMORIAM

Alan Porter
11/05/83 - 19/01/10

If we could have a lifetime wish and one dream that could come true,
we would pray to God
with all our hearts just to see and speak to you.
A thousand words won't bring you back,
we know because we've tried,
and neither will a million tears,
we know because we've cried.
You've left behind our broken hearts and precious memories too.
But we've never wanted memories,
we only wanted you.

It's been 5 years since you've been taken from us. We miss you and think of you every day our lovely son.

Smart computers are predicting our every move

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER

THE OTHER week my smartphone – having worked out I was on a train chugging its way through Sandhills station – decided to give me an update on how Brendan Rogers' boys were getting on against Arsenal.

Somewhere deep within the phone's brain, a complicated algorithm had worked out that, as I was vaguely close to Anfield, I must have been interested in the results.

All it proved was that my phone probably knows less about me than you do.

It makes even less sense when you apply it to real world driving – I was driving through London the other day and I could still work out when to change lanes long before Lady Satnav did.

That's why I'm genuinely going to have to take a leap of faith with Honda's latest invention. They've managed to come up with an automatic cruise control system that can predict if someone's about to cut you up. Not only that, but it then applies the brakes to prevent them causing a pile–up.

Surely that's just witchcraft? Predicting who is going to cut you up on the M58 is something best done with common sense rather than computers. Even a really good computer, developed by Honda's brainiest boffins, cannot scan every car on the motorway, work out which one is the BMW X5 on personalised plates and take pre–emptive action to prevent them from ruining your drive into work.

It's called Intelligent Adaptive Cruise Control – or i–ACC, as Honda's insisting we nickname it – and it'll be available on range–topping versions of the CR–V off–roader later this year.

It's being hailed as a step towards a whole new generation of clever gadgets that can predict what people are about to do and take steps to improve the situation. Maybe such tech shouldn't just be limited to motoring. Have LFC thought about bringing in i–ACC to replace Brendan Rogers?

SEAT is marching in on the fast estate territory dominated by Ford and Skoda

SEAT team launch estate

By Ollie Cowan

SEAT is following Ford, VW and Skoda into the world of practically–minded performance cars by launching its first ever fast estate model.

The SEAT Leon ST Cupra has the same 280bhp engine and six–speed gearbox as its hatchback sibling, but despite all the extra luggage room it's only two tenths of a second slower in the dash from 0 to 60mph.

It goes on sale here in March, with prices due to be announced in the next few weeks.

Weather the winner as game ends in stalemate

Mossley 1 Burscough 1

BOTH teams struggled to play any decent football in a match dictated by strong winds, sleet and a heavy pitch.

Burscough enjoyed most of the possession in the opening half with midfielder Eddie Toner dictating the pace of the game and the Linnets went ahead on 35 minutes.

Wade Joyce was brought down just outside the penalty box and skipper Paul Williams fired the free–kick low to the near post. The ball met post and Andy Farrimond's gloves simultaneously before finding the back of the Mossley net.

Mossley stepped up the pace after the break and scoring efforts were denied by blocks and saves until the 72nd minute when Sam Robinson was upended 20 yards from goal. Kyle McGonigle blasted the free–kick through the Burscough wall and despite keeper Calvin Hare getting full hands to the ball the shot proved too strong for him to keep out.

Mossley had a chance to take the lead when Robinson raced through and collided with the advancing Burscough keeper outside the box. With Hare on the floor the ball broke to Arron Hevingham 30 yards from goal but, with the net unguarded, the midfielder elected to pass to Ahamdi who was closed down and the visitors scrambled the ball to safety.

The best chance of the closing stages fell to Mossley as substitute Fish teed up Carroll whose shot few narrowly over the bar.

Linnets crash out of county cup

Southport 5
Burscough 1

BURSCOUGH were decisively beaten in the Lancashire Senior Cup by near neighbours Burscough.

The match that must have brought back memories for Southport manager Gary Brabin who played in the Burscough side of 2006–7.

The disparity in quality told on the night with Port scoring three in the first twenty minutes.

Daniel Lloyd–Weston was reinstalled in goal for Southport to the side after David Raya Martin's departure but he had little to do as his colleagues ran riot at the other end with goals by John Marsden, Amadou Bakayoko, Richard Brodie, a penalty after Bakayoko was felled by Paul Williams, and Danny Hattersley.

Jordan Williams pulled one back for Burscough in the 55th minute but Marsden made it five to ensure Southport's place in the semi–final when they will host Skelmersdale United in February.

Stormy Corner lives up to its name

Skelmersdale United 2
Buxton 3

SKELMERSDALE United's Stormy Corner ground certainly lived up to its name as the hardy spectators were "treated to" all four weather seasons in one day, sunshine, hail, heavy rain and a strong gale blowing the length of the pitch, report Neil Leatherbarrow.

The crowd were entertained by five goals by a pair of teams that considering the conditions managed some excellent football.

Skelmersdale took the lead, Connor McCarthy striking from an acute angle after a clever bit of footwork on the left–hand side of the Buxton penalty area.

The first–half wind was a big advantage to Buxton and it played a part in their equaliser in the 21st minute, though credit has to be given for a superbly floated cross from Craig King that dropped perfectly onto Ash Palmer's head in the Skelmersdale penalty area.

Buxton then won a succession of corners but Skem were holding on well in the face of the storm, until Greg Young headed home in the 36th minute.

It could have been worse, but stand–in goalkeeper Andy Paxton pulled off a magnificent diving save from Liam Hardy right on the 45th minute.

Skem had the wind in their favour after half–time, but in the 54th minute a back pass took a dreadful bounce as Paxton went to kick it clear and the ball ran to Ash Burbeary in a wide position, from where it required an excellent cross to give Hardy the chance to make it 3–1.

Skelmersdale came back well and within three minutes pulled it back to 3–2 after the ball fed to Ben Tollitt on the left, he dribbled past right–back Alex Byrne but was tripped, leaving Mitchley to fire home the resulting penalty.

The latter stages became very scrappy, though that was hardly surprising as the weather became horrendous, to the extent that the referee would have been justified in taking both teams off the pitch at one stage.

For Skelmersdale Mitchley was fractions off converting from a Peter Wylie cross and Kenny Strickland had a free–kick saved by Buxton goalkeeper Arron Jameson.

Skelmersdale hadn't played badly at all, it just wasn't their day.

They face the long trip to King's Lynn on Saturday.
